WAITING FOR MR. BLAINE.

STEAMERS CHARTERED AND EVERYTHING IN READINESS.

The Steamship City of New York Expected Here To-Morrow Afterneon with the Plumed Knight on Board-The Sam Sloan to Carry Only Seven Hundred "Exclusives"-New England Not Very Well Represented at the Reception.

"The Republican League of the United States" announce in the advertising columns of the morning papers that they " have seoured the magnificent steamer Robert Garrett " to go down the bay at 11 o'clock tomorrow to assist in welcoming James G.

Other organizations have signified their intention of taking a hand, and, in short, the "very informal" and exceedingly exclusive Intentions of the New York Republican Club, at the suggestion of Mr. Blaine himself, are being disregarded by the friends and enthusiasts who have set out to shout for the Plumed Knight till 1892.

The first out-of-town delegation has arrived. It is the Young Men's Blaine Club. of Chicago. It comes 150 strong, but, owing to the death of Gen. Sheridan, it did not parade, but went quietly to the Hoffman House from the Eric Depot. The James G. Blaine Club, of Kansas City.

120 strong, is on its way and will arrive here bome time to-day. Grand Marshal Col. Jones and several hun-dred of his Brooklyn cobort will trail down the bay on the Garrett.

William Henry Harrison Miller and Mr. Elam, law partners of Gen. Benj. Harrison, will represent him at the reception and John Devoy will be received on Board the Sam Slean by the Republican Club as a representative of the Irish Republican Blainites, while John D. Lawson will be permitted to go with the young men as a sole representative of the old-line politicians.

But news comes from Massachusetts of a tive of the old-line politicians.

But news comes from Massachusetts of a singular apathy. At Worcester, Springfield, Hartford and other New England cities meetings of Republicans decided not to send representatives, and there will be but a slim showing from the New England strongholds of Republicanism.

The reception will be a big thing, though, especially if the City of New York should make the unprecedentedly fast trip scheduled for her.

The Sam Sloan has a carrying capacity of 1,500, but only 700 exclusives will be permitted to go down the bay on her. Among these will be Mr. Levi P. Morton, Senator Quay and a few members of the National and State committees, the three sons of Mr. Blaine, Walker, Emmons and James G., jr., Whitelaw Reid, Thos. C. Platt, Gov. Foraker, Senators Hiscock, Evarts, Manderson, Spooner, Hawley and Allison, John Sherman, Warner Miller, Brevet-Major McKinley, Henry Cabot Lodge, William Walter Phelps, Patřick Ford, Ex-Gov. Russell, A. Alger, J. H. Stone, of the Detroit Tribune; Major Bundy, John A. Schleicher, of the Albany Evening Journal; C. W. Fairbanks, of Indianapolis; Gov. Loring, Inspector Williams, Col. Col. Elliott F. Shepard, Steve Elkins, Joseph H. Manley, Sitting Bull Lawson and John H. Starin and 400 members of the Republican Club.

Mr. Blaine, Mrs. Blaine and daughter, and Mr. Blaine's sister. Gail Hamilton, will be brought up to a convenient pier, and will be escorted privately to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, the Custom-House authorities having issued orders permitting the transfer from the steamer to the Sloan.

Among Mr. Blaine's fellow-passengers on the City of New York are Marahall P. Wilder, A. J. Cassatt, Earl Donoughmore, Countess Donoughmore, J. Macdonald Cameron, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Horniblow, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ravenscroft, Lady Eveline Haley Hutchinson, Lady Nora Hutchinson, W. H. Burgess, Rev. N. Summerbell and John R. Dos Passos.

The parade will form on Fifth avenue, with the head at Fifty-ninth street, and will be reviewed by Mr. Blaine at Madison Square. It will be commanded by Grand Marshal Jack. Son. President James P. Foster will ride in an open barouche drawn by six white horsas each led by a plumed colored man, at the head of the Republican League Division, and the whols affair will be gorgeous despite the Carping of the Mugwumpian element.

Mr. Kirk, the general manager of the passager department of the Imman line, has great faith in the powers of the new steamship City of New York, and confidently expects that she will land Mr. Blaine and the other passengers in this city some time tomorrow afternoon.

Although he is not prepared to say that the trip will be made in less than six days, it will not be necessary to do this in order to accomplish the feat proposed.

The vessel, as has been already stated, was delayed several hours at the start and did not leave Queenstown until 9,30 o'clock r. M. last Thursday.

If she should not arrive here until the same hour to-morrow evening the elapsed time would be six days, four hours and a fraction, for the difference in time between here and Queenstown is nearly four hours and a half. There would be nothing remarkable in this, for the previous records of several transatlantic steamers surpasses it.

able in this, for the previous records of several transatlantic steamers surpasses it.

The City of New York is supposed to be the fastest of the fleet afloat, and may break all the records on her first trip. Therefore, if no accident occurs, it will not be strange if she is able to land her passengers in this city some time during the afternoon.

Manager Kirk would not be too positive in his predictions, however, and said that a good deal depended on luck, which he hoped would be in the company's favor.

This despatch was received at the Police Gazette office yesterday:

Nantasket, Mass. Aug. 6.—JohnL. Sullivan announces that he is ready to arrange a match with Jake Kilrain. champion of the world, for frem $5,000 to $10,000 a side and the championship. He claims that Fd S. Stokes, of the Hoffman House, New York, will back him against either Kilrain or Mitchell for $10,000 to $25,000 a side. Kilrain will arrive in New York Aug. 25 on the Cunard steamer Etruria.

On the arrival of the champion he will not hesitate to arrange a match with Sullivan, providing the latter has posted a forfeit of $1,000 with the Chipper, and issues a bona fide challenge to fight for the above amount of stakes, the Police Gazette diamond belt and the championship of the world. Kilrain's backer will not be frightened by Sullivan proposing to fight for large stakes, and when it comes down to genuine match-making, Kilrain will hold a straight flush, consisting of the Police Gazette diamond belt, the championship, &c.

An Evening World as traight flush, consisting of the Police Gazette diamond belt, the championship, &c.

An Evening World is regard to the above, was informed that he was up at Saybrook, Conn., looking after his Fenwick Hall Hotel. Clerk Peacock who was asked in regard to the truth of Mr. Sullivan's statement, said:

"Nothing could be more absurd. Why, I don't think Mr. Stokes is even acquainted with Sullivan."

M'LEAN NEED NOT SHOW THEM. But the Books Will Have to be Produced All the Same.

Justice Patterson, in Supreme Court Chambers this morning, restrained Coroner Messemer from further examining Secretary McLean, of the Twenty-street railway, in the Levy inquest on the ground that since his commitment for the manslaughter he can claim his privilege as an accused person,

The Court stated expressly that the prohibition should extend to no other witnesses.

The Court stated expressly that the prohibition should extend to no other witnesses and would not entertain the proposition that the Coroner had no right to compel the production of documentary evidence.

There is little doubt, therefore, that the rallway company will be compelled to produce the record of accidents.

Col. Dennison, arguing for the railway company, made a bitter and altogether unjustifiable personal attack upon the Coroner and Assistant District-Attorney Macdona, accusing them of persecution.

FIRST BLOOD FOR THE 8TH.

IT WAS EX-ALDERMAN HALL'S AND SHED BY REPUBLICANS.

Terrible Time While It Lasted-Mr. Hall Jumped on by Three Members of the G. O. P. and Otherwise Injured-The Affair Referred to a Commission-Two of the G. O. P. Arrested and Discharged.

There was music in the Eighth Assembly District last evening and politics had a corner on the crowded thoroughfares of John J. O'Brien's borough. The machine Republicans raised a banner at Chrystic and Grand streets, there was a parade of the followers of O'Brien and a high old time in general,

Ex-Assemblyman Charles Smith celebrated als renewal of political ties with John J., and there were by actual count two Harrison and Morton transparencies and fourteen Charles Smith for Assembly transparencies in the procession

The first blood of the campaign is claimed for the Eighth District, and it will have to be awarded to it. Ex-Alderman George Hall, the Tammany Hall chieftain of the district, was standing in front of his store, when a crowd of O'Brien's friends came along. "We will carry this district for Harrison," "We will carry this district for Harrison," shouted one of the O'Brien gang.

"No you won't," replied Mr. Hall, and the next moment there was a sound of a biff and Hall was lying flat on the sidewalk. Three members of the G. O. P. jumped on him.
Hall got the fingers of an assailant in his mouth, and the man yelled "Murder." His companions were sweeping the ex-Alderman towards the gutter when the friends of Hall resolution. reshed up.

For a few minutes the air was full of fists, legs, cobblestones, and a small-sized riot was in progress.

The wicked Republicans who had assaulted Hall were finally driven down Chrystie street. Moses Stern, a friend of Hall's, lost a valuable gold watch, which was stolen from his pocket during the melee.

After the ex-Alderman had wiped the blood from his nose and had evolved a white silk handkerchief into a Thurman bandanna, he secured the services of six stalwart Tammanyites and went in search of the Republicans who had wiped the sidewalk with him.

Hall and his bodyguard went boldly to Charley Smith's "Silver Dollar" saloon and recognized two of the sluggers.

"Shall we clean the place out, George?" asked one of Hall's chums.
Charley Smith glanced at his mirrors and, jumping upon a chair, waved a white handkerchief as a token of surrender.

Both sides appointed Commissioners of Peace, and the Commissioners went in session in a rear room.

The Commissioners finally decided that the two men who assaulted Hall should be arrested.

This agreement was signed by the reprewere arrested and taken to the Eldridge street police station.

They gave fictitious names, and to-day they were taken to the Essex Market Police Court.

Judge Duffy could not hold them because Hall and Smith had at midnight signed an-other article of peace and good will.

Under its provisions Wall was to withdraw his charge and Mr. Stern was to get back his watch. All parties concerned in the fight agreed to keep the names of the arrested parties a se-cret. The row is the talk of the Eighth District.

"I tell you," remarked a gentleman, who saw Hall giving battle to the Republican loafers, "George Hall is a game little man. He fought like a regular game-cock.

"He kicked a six-footer in the stomach and sent him down an areaway and knocked another one under the wheels of a truck. Hall was not to blame. The gang assaulted him,"

The ex-Alderman did not care to talk about the row when seen by an Evening World reporter to-day. His nasal organ is considerably swelled.

"I claim," said he, "to have shed the first blood for Cleveland in this campaign."

Coroner Ferdinand Levy, from a panel of twenty, selected twelve jurors this morning

The dozen were obtained after half an hour, and Coroner Levy then swore them in, spoke of the importance of the case, and said the first step was to examine the premises.

The jury, with the Coroner, repaired to the Bowery, and nosed their way through the narrow passageway which was the one egress, looked at the unimpaired fire-escapus, went through the People's Theatre up to the roof of the adjoining Chrystie street tenement, and were then dismissed till next

Capt. Cassidy and Mr. Stern, the owner of the burnt building, were on the premises during the jury's investigation, which took half an hour.

MURPHY'S DEFI TO "THE SPIDER." ike Weir Has a Chance to Fight the Eng-ish Feather-Weight. INPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, Boston, Aug. 7. —Indications point to a prize ring encounter between Frank Murphy, English eather-weight champion, and Ike Weir, the Spider, to occur in the fall. Directly after the Murphy-Havlin affair last Thursday morning Murphy and the Spider in-dulged in some hot words which resulted in the latter declaring himself prepared to fight at 118 pounds, according to the code of rules that govern ili championship battles. Since his return to this city he has caused a tatement to be published. Murphy is now more anxious than ever to meet "The Spider" and sends the following for publication:

sends the following for publication:

To the Editor of the Bostom Hervid:

White in training for my match with Jack Havilin "the Spider" professed a desire to meet me in a ring encounter for $2,000 a side, and signed an agreement to that effect in your office, consensing to meet several days later for the signing of articles and poeting a substantial sum of money for a forfeit.

In company with my backers we were on hand, ready to deposit money, but "the Spider," upon some trivial excuse, asked for another chance to sign the agreement.

Articles according to his liking were lodged by my backer at the Herald office, but "the Spider" falled to display an inclination to consent to a fight. I was more or less harassed by him at a time when I should have had a free and easy mind. He now renews his serfes of stracks and presends to be in search of a fight. I wish to state that I am in the same mood and bog to place before him and the public the following proposition: I will fight like Weit, "the Spider," with skin gloves to a finish, in a 24-foot ring, under the new rules of the London prize ring, ten weeks from date, within 500 miles of Providence, for $1,000 or $3,000 a side, each man to be restricted to 11s pounds weight in costume, ten hours before entering ring, or at that weight stripped on entering the ring, only eight or ten mean a side to be privileged to attend the match, the gentlemen who officiated as referee and stakeholder respectively in my laste battle to do similar duties in the proposed fight.

The stakeholder to select the battle-ground and condact the privileged parties there.

I will be at the Herald office next Saturday at 2 o'clock P. M. prepared to attach my name to articles.

o'clock F. M. prepared of meeting so far off is for the purpose settling in the mean time, if possible, my undecided battle with Haviin.

IS RETRIBUTION NEAR?

John J. Davenport's Insolent Letter May B the Last Straw.

The insolent letter John I. Davenport ha written to Acting Attorney-General of the United States Jenks is much commented upon by politicians. Those who know Johnny Davenport are not surprised at his actions. He is known among the local statesnen as a bulldozer, a usurper of authority, men as a buildozer, a usurper of authority, a self-opinionated sort of an individual.

Mr. Jenks notified John I. Davenport, who is still Chief United States Supervisor of Elections, that the sub-supervisors of elections will be paid for only five days' of service for the coming election. Mr. Davenport says in his letter to Deputy Attorney-General Jenks that the supervisors will be paid for as many days as they may be called upon to serve, and Mr. Davenport snaps his fingers at the Attorney-General's office.

Davenport was appointed Chief Supervisor of Elections in 1871 and all efforts to remove him from the position has failed. He can only be removed for incapability and for the non-discharge of his duties. The United States Judges for this circuit can remove him.

The judges of this circuit are Lacombe and Wallace. It is more than likely that Judge Lacombe will make an effort for the removal of Davenport. Judge Wallace's vote, however, is necessary.

It is thought by many Democrats that Davenport intends to use his office this election in the same manner that he used it in years gone by, when he arrested voters with-out any charge and locked them up in cages.

She Is Five Days Overdue and Comes from Naples-She Has Only Three Steerage Passengers Abourd, However, So the Committeemen Will Be Disappointed-They Made a Similar Trip Once Betere, and Discovered One Emigrant.

The special Congressional committee of inestigation into the abuses of the emigration laws varied its proceedings to-day by going down the bay in a revenue cutter for the purpose of making a personal investigation of an incoming steamer. The India is overdue from Naples since Fri-

lay. She was sighted this morning, and the committee will take a look at her sheep-pen. The committee met at the Westminster Hotel at the usual hour in deference to the press, taking no advantage of the newspaper men, but inviting them to accompany them. A tall, swarthy man of thirty-five was present. He was full of indignation and intro-duced himself as Salvador La Grassa, Super-intendent of the Hardman & Peck piano factory.

He had a grievance.

An Italian named Frenaldi had told a Wonno reporter that La Grassa had refused to give him work, because he would not give him $100 for the job.

La Grassa denounced Frenaldi as a lazza-roni whom be had discharged more than a year ago for drunkenness.

He said: "Frenaldi would call me a wicked, swindling padrone, I am not. I am an honest, henorable man. He nes and I must be vindicated."

Chairman Ford explained that the committee was not responsible for the uttarances of Frensldi nor anybody else, but the fiery La Grassa would not be mollified, and stormed

There is a heavy fog off the Hook, and a number of steamships are in the offing.

One of them has been ascertained to be the Eider, from Bremen, and another is La Normandie, of the French line, from Havre.

At the office of the Anchor line an Evening World reporter was told that the India shipped only three steerage passengers this cruise. They are from Trieste.

No information could be obtained regarding the shipping lists of the other steamers.

O'CLOCK THE YELLOW FLAG,

Flying for Yellow Fever in the Harbor To-Day.

The Dread Signal Causes Widespread Consternation.

The Bark Maria Louisa Ordered Down to Quarantine-Yellow Fever Caused the Death of Two of Her Crew-Result of the Autopsy-Difference of Opinion Botween the Coroners and the Health Bourd.

There is no doubt now in the minds of the Brooklyn health authorities but that the leath of Miguel Ramos, the Spanish sailor who died on the bark Maria Louisa on Sunday night, as announced exclusively in yesterday's Evening World, was caused by vellow fever.

The bark was ordered to Quarantine this morning and was taken in tow by the Niagara.

As she moved down the bay the yellow flag which was flying from her masthead caused considerable consternation among the sailors and passengers on other vessels, particularly those bound for Southern ports.

An autopsy was made on the body of Ramos last evening by Dr. George V. Connery, Saniary Engineer of Shipping. Dr. A. N. Shephord was also present, and both physicians agree that the probable cause of death was herd was also present and both physicians agree that the probable cause of death was yellow fever.

In his report to the Health Commissioners this morning he says:

"I made an autopsy on the body of Ramos, and found the liver much enlarged and of a yellowish color and fatty. The kidneys were enlarged and congested. The stomach contained about a pint of dark-colored matter resembling coffee grounds.

Death resulted, in my opinion, from pernicious intermittent fever. From the patheological appearances of the organs, while I will not positively state that from the symptoms as presented by this case that it is one of yellow fever. I at the same time feel that, all things considered, it is my duty to strongly advocate through Commissioner of Health Griffin the speedy removal of the bark to Quarantine for observation and purification."

It was stated positively at the Health Department that the case was one of yellow fever, though at the Coroner's office no information could be obtained beyond the fact that the man had been buried.

Commissioner Griffin this morning received a letter from Wm. H. Smith, Health Officer at Quarantine, to the effect that a thorough examination of the ship and passengers had been made on July 30, when the Maria Louisa arrived. No sickness exised beyond two cases of non-malignant chronic diseases. The baggage of these two passengers was thoroughly fumigated.

Dr. Samborn, the Health Officer's assistant, delivered the communication, and was given a full and complete description of the circumstances surrounding the death of Damos.

The case of Ramos is described as being merchanics surrounding the death of Damos. BERLIN, Aug. 7 .- The visit of the Emperor stances surrounding the death of Damos.

The case of Ramos is described as being most peculiar. Sometimes persons having vellow fever walk about and appear healthy until a few hours before death. Such cases are known as "walking yellows," and are particularly difficult to diagnose. Up to last night no other cases of sickness were discov-ered on the bark.
